DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Brönstrup et al. and Finke.

Brönstrup et al. discloses the claimed device, especially the bottom of the package having a valve 7 "which is constructed in a known manner...or may have any other suitable construction. See column 2, lines 55-60. However, Brönstrup et al. does not show the valve being an elongate body foldable into a cavity. Finke discloses that it is known in the art to provide a valve that is an elongate body foldable into the cavity formed by an analogous block-bottom bag. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the valve of Brönstrup et al. as the elongate body of Finke, in order to permit filling of the bag and subsequent closure through the folding of the valve.

3. Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Niemeyer and Martin.

Niemeyer discloses the claimed device except for the valve 2 being foldable into a cavity. Martin discloses that it is known in the art of valve bags to provide a valve that is foldable into a cavity. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the valve of Niemeyer such that it is foldable into a cavity, taught to be desirable by Martin for the purpose closing the valve subsequent to filling the bag.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments filed 10/25/2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

5. In response to applicant's arguments against the Brönstrup et al. and Finke references individually, one cannot show nonobviousness by attacking references individually where the rejections are based on combinations of references. See In re Keller, 642 F.2d 413, 208 USPQ 871 (CCPA 1981); In re Merck & Co., 800 F.2d 1091, 231 USPQ 375 (Fed. Cir. 1986).

Conclusion

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
